

CLASSIFICATION

25X1A

REPORT NO.

CD NO.

COUNTRY China

DATE DISTR. 21 October 1952

SUBJECT Reorganization of Amoy University

NO. OF PAGES 1

DATE OF INFO. 25X1C

NO. OF ENCLS.
(LISTED BELOW)

PLACE ACQUIRED

SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. 25X1X

Amoy University will be reorganized in the fall of 1952 and will become one of four comprehensive universities in East China,¹ according to WANG Ya-nan (3769/0068/0589), chancellor. The following changes will be made:

- a. The College of Agriculture will be merged with that at Foochow University to form an independent technical college.
- b. The Navigation Technical Division will be merged with the Marine Products Technical Institute at Chimei (118-06, 24-34) to form an independent technical college.
- c. The Department of Oceanic Studies will be merged with that at Shantung University. Instructors in the biology division of the Department of Oceanic Studies will join an oceanic biology study group.
- d. Departments of Economics, Russian Language, Mining and Geology will be added to the University.

1. [] Comment. A dispatch from Pan-Asia, dated 13 August 1952, announced the amalgamation of fifty-nine private universities in East China. According to [] for the purpose of controlling university education, China would be divided into four areas beginning with the autumn term of 1951. One of these areas would be Fukien, with Amoy University.

CLASS I F I C A T I O N

SECRET

[illegible]